Playwright/Artist Dael Orlandersmith, whose play, "Until The Flood," is being staged by the Milwaukee Repertory Theater in March 2018, met with the community and theater lovers during a "Community Night" sponsored by the Milwaukee Rep.

The theater company's artistic director Mark Clements conducted a Q and A session with Orlandersmith, whose play explores the reactions of the St. Louis region to the shooting of Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri.

The play features eight real-life characters who have interesting and unique perspectives and their stories reflect a range of human experiences.

Black Milwaukee women gather for Empowerment March

Black women from the community of all ages and occupations gathered at the Victory Over Violence Park recently in a show of unity and to bring awareness to the oppressive treatment of Black women and how they must empower themselves to overcome the many difficult challenges confronting them. The park, located at 2615 N. Dr. Martin Luther King Drive, was the launching point for a Black Women's Empowerment March. The march was organized by Uplifting Black Liberation and Community (UBLAC) and was done in coordination with Washington, D.C.'s National March for Racial Justice to highlight the intersectionality of Milwaukee's racial past and emphasize the invisible struggles of the city's Black females and segments of the LGBTQ community. Participating in the march were a number of Black women lawmakers: Ald. Milele Coggs, Cong. Gwen Moore, state Senators Lena Taylor and LaTonya Johnson, Cnty Sup. Sequanna Taylor and Ald. Chantia Lewis.

ELECTION WATCH 2016 THE RESULTS

Senate incumbent Taylor defeats challenger Barnes in hotly contested primary race

Jason Fields to return to Assembly, Gwen Moore easily defeats challenger Gary George

Compiled by MCJ Staff

Incumbent state Sen. Lena Taylor handily won the most hotly anticipated, contested and discussed political race of the year, defeating her challenger, Rep. Mandela Barnes in the August 9 state primary elections.

Sen. Lena Taylor

Taylor collected 61 percent (11,430) of the votes in her fourth district senatorial race. Despite heavy financial backing and support from the predominantly white suburb of Shorewood—and the political action group, Wisconsin Working Family Party, Barnes could only muster 39 percent (7,414) of the votes.

Jason Fields

In what could best be described as the second most hotly contested political race in the community, incumbent Milwaukee County District Attorney John Chisholm defeated Atty. Yvonne Swainigan. Chisholm received 51,466 votes (66 percent) to Swainigan's 27,570 votes (35 percent). Described by local WISN-TV radio talk show host Sherrie Hughes as "a phoenix rising from the ashes," former State Rep. Jason Fields reclaimed his former District 1 Assembly seat, narrowly defeating Daniel Gibson.

Fields collected 2,950 votes (59 percent) to Gibson's 2,062 (41 percent). If there was ever a potential "aha walk," it would be the contest between incumbent U.S. Congresswoman Gwen Moore and former state Senator Gary George.

Figuratively speaking (and expected), Moore walked all over George in this primary election, receiving 85 percent of the votes (55,893) to George's piddly 15 (6,508 votes).

In the other senate race involving one community, Rep. LaTonya Johnson will succeed Nikkyia Harris Dodd in senate district six, who she stepped down from the position for personal reasons.

Johnson defeated two other challengers for the seat: Thomas Harris and Michael Bonds, the former president of the Milwaukee Public School's Board of Directors.

Johnson collected 9,560 votes (61 percent). The race for second place between Harris and Bonds was tight, with Harris receiving 3,258 votes (20 percent), and Bonds 3,011 (19 percent).

In two other Assembly races in predominantly Black districts, incumbent state Rep. Leon Young retained his District 16 seat defeating Edna Lin, Bimely Bond, and Stephen Janner.

David Crowley will now represent the 17th Assembly district, following two other candidates, Kim Barnes—the daughter of the late legendary Milwaukeean Billy Williams—and Marcus Hart.

OPEN LETTER TO OUR READERS

Milwaukee Community Journal is an actual brick and mortar building, not just an online entity. I was downstairs reviewing our equipment in the storage office and it's like visiting a museum. Old relics, equipment, computers, software and past editions illuminate 40 years journaling the history of change.

Since our origin in 1976, we've moved with our audience. Today our readers are predominantly millennials, 18-40 years of age, shakers and movers, the buyers! They are buying homes, cars, raising families. They are eating “fresh,” active in politics, exercising and partying.

Our readers find us in print, with our twice-weekly editions in tenured retail outlets, churches and selective distribution spots. But they also read us online at milwaukeecommunityjournal.com We're in this to win this! We're dynamic....crisp clear....interactive...and to be honest - exploding with information that you want to read!

We're perfect for new and established advertisers! We want more local interaction and community written articles. We want to offer more millennial access to a proven community source. This is who we are. But one thing is still deep on our hearts, and that is you've got to join our team. You're the community part of the Milwaukee Community Journal. Let's build together!
